Welcome To The October Meeting

Tonight

Tonight's meeting it's to be an indoor activities evening here at the NBRC, and now that the cooler darker evenings are now with us, this will be the second of many to come before next summer, we hope to run a Bingo session and Simon should be back in force this month with his numbers on the pulse, with cash prizes for the winners and also we hope to bring you the every popular raffle.

Last Months Meeting

In last months meeting we held our first indoor event of the winter months, this came in the form of a quiz ran by Ian, the evenings entertainment as helped along the way as he got the numbers of the quiz muddled at times which made the whole thing go with a swing, well done to the winners, and we hope you were not sick on the way home, we did not run the every popular raffle as Tesco in Thornbury had no choice in the car care area.

Next Months Meeting

Next months meeting is on Wednesday 19th November again we should be bringing you some more indoor events and we also hope to bring you the popular raffle again with fantastic prizes.

Shows

This years show season for 2008 is now come to an end... What a year as the weather was not great for a few shows, added to the fact that a few shows were cancelled and the numbers attending the shows were down year on year.

However a BIG thank you to everyone who attended the many shows we went to this year and thank you for your support.... Roll on 2009

All New Fiesta
The long wait is finally

After months of anticipation and feverish press coverage the world over, the completely redesigned all new Ford Fiesta has finally been released. Sleek, sexy and utterly sophisticated, it embraces the spirit of a fresh modern, dynamic world – the sprit of now.

Everything about the all new Fiesta is new – from its styling, materials and technology to the core development and manufacturing processes that have brought it to life. Its sculpted, sleek, sporty lines and cutting edge Ford kinetic Design guarantees it will turn heads wherever it goes.

Of course, appearance is nothing without substance and the all new Fiesta delivers on both counts. A small car with big car technology - the latest technical innovations available allow you to listen to your MP3 player and even wirelessly connect to your phone, all without taking your hands off the wheel.

Tango at the tower marks UK launch of all-new Fiesta

Ford Motor Company

Using two of the first all new Fiesta models to arrive in the UK, stunt drivers drove a Squeeze Green and Hot Magenta models to perform a unique Tango car dance, specially created by choreographer to the stars Paul Harris and international stunt driver Paul Swift.

Strictly Come Dancing winner, Mark Ramprakash, and Tango troupes from across London joined in the party atmosphere. Today, while they nurse their hangovers and smoking tyres, the all new Fiesta goes on sale across Britain.

Hosting the party was Ford of Britain's chairman and managing director, Roelant de Waard, who said: "We created the new Fiesta with a real passion and we're confident that it's the car the nation is about to fall in love with and so what better way to launch it than with the classic dance of love – the Tango!"

The all new Ford Fiesta is not just the most dramatic and distinctive Fiesta ever, it also marks a significant landmark, in Ford's history. Since the very first Fiesta was launched in 1976, over 3.4million have been sold in the UK, proving the enduring popularity of the model's style, efficiency and value for money.
